WITHOUT AAR

- You have to read more than 1,000 state legislative bills every year for new and changed laws that could damage your business
- Every year you have to fight new transfer and professional services taxes that take money out of your clients' pockets
- You and your clients can't put For Sale/For Rent signs in HOAs
- The banking industry passes strict deficiency laws which cripple the real estate industry

Risk Management

- Arizona REALTORS® drafted Article 26 of the Arizona Constitution to give you the right to draft contracts
- Arizona REALTORS® provides standard forms created by experts, so you can depend on the boilerplate and focus on other details
- Arizona REALTORS® stands in for you at agency meetings and at the Corporation Commission to filter through information and keep you informed of any changes
- Arizona REALTORS® provides a variety of dispute resolution systems to resolve conflicts in the simplest manner possible

- Every contract you write must be drafted by a lawyer
- You have to spend hours on each transaction reading through unfamiliar real estate terms and clauses on behalf of your clients
- You have to spend a major portion of your time monitoring regulatory and legal developments to make sure you are in compliance
- You run into a problem with another agent and there's no easy way to resolve it

- You sit through CE classes and leave wondering what you learned and how to apply it
